

Mona Freeman

Titles: 0 Sources: 1 Stills: 2

Born: Monica Freeman; 1926

Strictly speaking, she was never a child actress at all. She's included here since many of her early roles involved her playing young adolescents, as in "DEAR RUTH", where she was the kid sister who writes smouldering love letters to a soldier using her elder sister's name and photograph. In fact she was 21 at the time, and went on to star in two sequels.

Racy correspondent – as the author of the love letters in "DEAR RUTH"

Source: Film Review 1947-48

Halliwell's Filmgoer's Companion entry:

"American leading lady, at her peak as a troublesome teenager in the forties."

Source: indeterminate

FILMOGRAPHY

Year	Age	Title	Role
deb 44	18	NATIONAL VELVET with Elizabeth Taylor, Mickey Rooney, Jackie "Butch" Jenkins
44		OUR HEARTS WERE YOUNG AND GAY with Johnny Sheffield
44		TILL WE MEET AGAIN with George Ernest
45	19	ROUGHLY SPEAKING with Johnny Sheffield
45		JUNIOR MISS with Scotty Beckett
45		DANGER SIGNAL
46	20	BLACK BEAUTY
46		THAT BRENNAN GIRL
46		OUR HEARTS WERE GROWING UP
47	21	VARIETY GIRL
47		DEAR RUTH
47		MOTHER WORE TIGHTS	