

Angela Glynne

Titles: 1      Sources: 0      Stills: 1

Born: UK; c1933

Presumptively played the sister of the central boy (Douglas Barr) in “FORTUNE LANE”, a Children’s Entertainment Films production in which the boy starts his own window-cleaning business to raise funds to further his ambition to be an engineer. Sister Margaret helps out when he brings a stray Irish boy home and has to conceal him in the shed from dad. It’s a good bet that the name is correct, since there were no other female leads in the film. Nothing else is known of her, although she may have showed up in other C.E.F. films of the late 40s.

With Douglas Barr

Source: Collins' Film Yearbook c1947

FILMOGRAPHY

Year	Age	Title	Role
47		FORTUNE LANE with Douglas Barr, Brian Weske	C.E.F. – as Margaret